Retreat Nurse Honored for Teaching Excellence

BRATTLEBORO, VT—The Brattleboro Retreat's Sherril B. "Cherie" Moran, RN, clinical leader, Adult Division, was recently chosen to receive the "Excellence in Clinical Teaching" award by the Office of Nursing Workforce and the Vermont Organization of Nurse Leaders.

Moran and four other Vermont nurses were recognized at a statewide nursing meeting held at Killington in April.

The award recognizes nurses who demonstrate excellence in their role as clinical teachers in the healthcare setting. It also seeks to honor nurses who foster passion for the art and science of nursing.

"Cherie teaches with the mind, body, spirit connection always in mind," said Helen Shea-Murphy, APRN, manager of clinical education at the Brattleboro Retreat. "She has a very calm, clear style of teaching even very complex concepts. To see someone who has worked so hard for so long be honored this way is a thrill for our entire staff."

The Brattleboro Retreat, founded in 1834, is a not-for-profit, regional specialty psychiatric hospital and addictions treatment center, providing a full range of diagnostic, therapeutic and rehabilitation services for individuals of all ages and their families.
